What we offer

The combination of large rooms, small rooms, corridors and stairways were laid down by the Marney family, and they lend themselves to a huge variety of uses. Whatever your event, the architecture, gardens and estate provide a perfect backdrop that is far removed from the low ceilinged, cramped, box like spaces, that are all too often used for such occasions.

Flexibility and attention to detail are two for the reasons why large organisations such as BP, AON and Hiscox have used Layer Marney Tower for presentations, product launches and conferences. The facilities have proven invaluable to more local businesses and trade organisations, who have used the venue for a wide variety of events from training and corporate fun days, to trade seminars and board meetings.

Great importance is attached to catering. Whether it's a banquet, buffet or barbecue, the food will be impeccable and the ingredients of the best quality – locally sourced where possible. Sample menus are available to give an idea as to the variety of food available and we would be more than to tailor a menu to your specific requirements.

Broadband is available throughout the buildings and a sophisticated telephone system ensures that you need never be out of touch. A lift gives access to the first and second floors of East Court, and to the Corsellis Room and Tuke's Chamber.
